PAINT YOUR WORLD WITH POETRY

What do you think of when you hear the word "poetry?" Do you make a weird face and run the other way? Do you think of it as something you only do in school? If you've discovered the world of poetry then you know how it is like painting with words. It can help to describe feelings, make you laugh out loud, bring back memories, and bring up lots of images. A scary poem might have you hiding in the closet! Food poems may send you running for the refrigerator. Some poems are about made-up characters that you wish you could have for pets. Sometimes the rhyming stories sound like music and they keep running through your head. Sometimes rhymes can be used as games or other activities such as jumping rope. Most of all it is just fun to read and listen for the beauty of language. Get ready to become a artist yourself...and paint your world with poetry.
